U. S. MARINES OCCUPY NICARAGUAN COAST CITIES

U. S. FAVORS ESTABLISHING A NICARAGUAN PROTECTORATE

Diaz Requests Control Of United States In Turbulent Republic

MANAGUA, Feb. 25.—With American Marines occupying all the cities of any importance and with a cordon of American battleships due to be augmented by the British addition tomorrow patrolling the coast of Nicaragua the battle area of the Liberals and Conservatives has been reduced to a small strip of territory.

The fortress of Ciscapa the towns of Leon and Chinandega became occupied zones of marines today and therefore out of bounds as far as internecine Nicaraguan battles were concerned.

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE (By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Nicaragua today officially appealed to the United States to take charge of that country's affairs by establishing a formal protectorate.

The proposal met with high favor at the state department. There were intimations that Secretary of State Kellogg would shortly issue a statement of approval and begin preparation of treaties.

Under the plan Nicaragua would surrender all of her internal affairs to the United States until stability is restored to the southern republic.

Canal Rights Guarded
The American rights to the Nicaragua canal and the naval bases on Fonseca bay and Little and Big Corn Islands would be safeguarded. Revolutions would be prevented and foreign lives and property protected, Diaz claims. It would restore much the same status as existed from 1912 to 1925 when the United States occupied the country, maintained peace and put the treasury in order.

Diaz proposes first the establishment of a loyal constabulary. The United States is urged to (Continued on Page 6)

County Clerks Discuss Bill At Convention

The bill pending before the legislature to eliminate the necessity of voters registering every two years was taken up yesterday by the California County Clerks' association meeting in San Jose.

The terms of the bill provide that all voters once they have registered would be classed as permanent residents as long as they reside in the precinct from which they originally registered.

County Clerk J. H. Wells of Contra Costa county is attending the convention.

Teaching school is matter of grim necessity for some young women. But Elizabeth R. Morrow (above) daughter of Dwight W. Morrow, millionaire partner in J. P. Morgan & Co., will enter profession for love of it. She is to join the teaching staff of Dwight School for Girls.

Suicide Mania Is Caused By Cold Winters Avers Savant

(By Universal Service)
BERKELEY, Feb. 25.—A long, cold winter is the cause of the suicide mania which is sweeping among college students.

This belief was expressed today by President W. W. Campbell of the University of California, who has just returned from a three weeks' visit in the East. "These suicides, coming as they have toward the end of a long winter, are the result of depression, caused perhaps by a lack of sleep, or food, heat or clothing. Many students have had a hard time over the winter, and a state of mental depression is a natural result."

President Campbell further pointed out that in California, where there is a mild climate, and where conditions are better generally, there are no such contributing causes, and consequently no student tragedies.

Building Permits Granted By Hurley

Mrs. E. C. Thornton will erect a flat under which will be built a three car garage, according to a building permit issued by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley yesterday. The flat will be located on the west side of Fifth street between Nevin and Barrett avenues and will cost $800.

G. A. Straub will construct a two car garage on the west side of Forty-eighth street between Potrero and Redwood avenues at a cost of $125.

CLASH BETWEEN G. BRITAIN AND RUSSIA FEARED

Italian Press Forces a Break In Relations Of Two Countries

(By Universal Service)
ROME, Feb. 25.—While the Italian press is guarded in commenting upon the British protest to Russia against the spread of anti-British propaganda, it is apparent that Italy is fearful of an armed clash between Britain and Russia unless, according to Lavoro D'Italia, London effects a pact with the Cantones based on the pound sterling and renews its alliance with Japan.

All the newspapers agree the British note to Moscow will have no effect.

The Popolo D'Italia features charges that the M. C. A. in China is supporting the radicals against the European policy with the Bible in one hand and dollars in the other.

The Corriere D'Italia renews its demand that the government investigate the activities of the Y. M. C. A. (correct) in Italy.

Vein Of Soft Coal Uncovered Near Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25.—According to persistent reports a large amount of soft coal suitable for domestic use has been uncovered through operations at the old coal mines in the foothills south of this city.

The Southport Land & Commercial company, owners of the property, have maintained strict censorship on its operations which have kept a crew of surveyors and investigators in the Pittsburgh foothills for the past several months.

The new vein of coal uncovered by the investigators proving one of the abandoned shafts of the old mines is said to be of good quality and with the elimination of transportation charges can be delivered for a fraction of present prices.

Communists Are Ousted In Chile

(By Universal Service)
SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 25.—Steps taken by Premier Carlos Ibanez to rid Chile of communist agitators and "reds" became effective today.

Fourteen former politicians and officials including a former premier of Chile embarked on a train for Valparaiso. From this point they will be sent to their solitary destination unofficially reported to be Easter Island.

PRESIDENT VETOES FARM RELIEF BILL IN MESSAGE OF 8,000 WORDS TO SENATE

In Lengthy Note to Congress, Coolidge Declares McNary-Haugen Bill Offers No Relief to Farmers But Is Designed For Packers and Middlemen

By JOHN T. LAMBERT
(Universal Service Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Flaying it as one of the worst pieces of legislation ever devised by congress, President Coolidge today vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm-relief bill.

He sent a veto message of 8,000 words to the senate. He accompanied that with 4,000 words of legal objections to the bill by Attorney-General Sargent.

Although the veto and Sargent's memorandum made a document of twenty-nine pages—longer than some of his annual messages to congress—President Coolidge declared that many other reasons existed why he refused to sign the bill, "but it is impossible to state them all without writing a book."

Contrary to a belief that he might soft-pedal it for political reasons, President Coolidge smashed the bill from all angles in the most powerful veto message he has ever written.

Unconstitutional
He declared the bill is unconstitutional in at least four respects.

He charged it was designed to build high prices for six classes of farmers, at the expense of all other groups of farmers and of the public.

He asserted it would actually provide no relief for the farmers it was designed to help but guaranteed profits only to packers, millers and middlemen, who produce absolutely nothing from the soil.

He said it would result in government price-fixing that would be disastrous to the humble consumers of small means. Government purchase of surplus crops for a high-priced foreign market would fix high prices for Ameri-

EXPECT VOTE ON BOULDER DAM TODAY

Proponents of Measure Will Call For Vote In Senate Today

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Republican leaders in the House will immediately call up the Swing-Johnson bill for consideration if the Senate invokes cloture in that body, Rep. John Q. Tilson, Connecticut, Republican floor leader, announced today.

"I believe that a majority of the members of the House favor passing the bill at this session of Congress to start the Boulder Dam project," said Tilson, adding:

"The House steering committee will consider tomorrow the question of taking up the bill and I believe it will be guided by what the Senate does."

"But I believe it would be futile for the House to spend hours on the bill and pass it, if we are going to run into a stone wall in the Senate."

"I believe the Swing-Johnson bill ought to be passed."

Debate In House
That the House is figuratively straining at the leash, waiting for the Senate to smash the filibuster, was evidenced by an outburst of debate in the lower chamber today.

There was an unusually large number of members present to hear speeches by Reps. E. T. Taylor (D), of Colorado; Rep. Phil D. Swing (R), of California, co-author of the Swing-Johnson bill, and Rep. F. H. Laguardia (R), of New York, in support of the project.

"The urgency of Boulder Dam has been demonstrated. It has been shown to be a practicable project, and all that remains is legislative action by Congress," he opened, continuing:

"The big test facing us today is whether a majority of the House and Senate are powerful enough to bring the bill to a vote. This is not the first time that sordid interests have throttled action."

"I believe this shows that we (Continued on page 4)

Elkton Lost At Sea, Says Report

TOKIO, Feb. 25.—The American pioneer freighter Elkton founded in a typhoon 1000 miles off Luzon, Philippine Islands, and her crew of 36 were drowned according to wireless reports reaching Yokohama today.

The Elkton carried a cargo of sugar valued at $3,000,000. On February 16 the Elkton sent out a distress signal but the message giving the exact location was never completed. American destroyers were rushed from Manila in the hope of finding some trace of the distressed freighter but their efforts were unavailing.

Spring Windows Will Be Unveiled Mar. 2

The coming of spring will be celebrated with unusually attractive window displays by local merchants, Marie Macdonald Jensen, secretary-manager of the Richmond Merchants' association, announced yesterday. The windows will be unveiled on the evening of Wednesday, March 2. Storewide displays will be held during the remainder of the week.

Ramsay Macdonald Will Visit U. S.

Beverly Hills Wants Return Of Will Rogers

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Will Rogers, cowboy, comedian, faces political extinction in the town of Beverly Hills, of which he is the regularly elected mayor, if he does not return home pretty soon.

A chamber of commerce resolution adopted there today accused the mayor of having "sadly neglected his duties through protracted absences."

Danger From High Water Is Regarded Past

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—All danger from high water in the Sacramento valley is now regarded as past according to the local weather forecaster, and the appearance of the sun today for the first time in several days portends good weather for this section of the state after nearly two weeks of intermittent storms.

R. R. Commission Grants Permit For Spur Track

Following approval of the city council on the proposed spur track to be constructed at the foot of Ninth street, the state railroad commission has granted permission to the Santa Fe railroad company to proceed with the laying of the track. City Clerk A. C. Faris, announced yesterday.

The new spur will benefit the W. C. Richards coal yard which has hitherto been handicapped by lack of adequate transportation facilities.

Wire Inspection Is Recommended By Coroner's Jury

Death from natural causes in the case of William G. Sheehy, Standard Oil worker who died at his post Wednesday, was the verdict of a coroner's jury in Richmond last night.

The jury held that the death of Charles Fox, San Pablo rancher who met his death Tuesday when he was electrocuted by a high tension wire near Alvarado park, was accidental, and no blame was placed. However, a recommendation was made that high tension wires in that section be given inspection.

Coroner Aubrey Wilson conducted the inquest.

GIRL SCOUTS PLAN HIKE TO ALVARADO

The Girl Scouts of Troop No. 1 yesterday made plans for a hike to be held this afternoon to Alvarado park. The girls will meet at 12:30 this afternoon and will then start on their hike.

Mrs. John Baumgartner, Mrs. Farliner and Mrs. L. W. Wuesthoff were in attendance. Christine Troya presided.

CHANG FORCES SKIRMISH WITH FLEEING FLANK OF SUN'S ARMY

Typical Scenes of War Exist in Region of Shanghai

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The whole of the Chinese navy has gone over to the side of the Cantonese, according to a Shanghai dispatch published in the Daily Express tonight.

Sensational reports of this latest development in this turn of events in the Chinese tangle persist in London.

The Daily Express report indicates that two river gunboats and a destroyer and gunboat which were included in the fleet lying in the river until this morning suddenly weighed anchor and departed in the direction of Wu Sung.

(By Universal Service)
SHANGHAI, Feb. 25.—Minor clashes have broken out between the arriving troops of General Chang Tsung-Chang, military governor of Shanghai, and the retreating forces of General Sun Chuan-Fang. The conflicts tonight marked the invasion of more northern Chinese troops.

Meanwhile, along the foreign settlements, extraordinary precautions have been taken for defensive purposes, and, in many sections, scenes typical of the great war abound.

The conflicting Chinese armies have not heeded the diplomatic warnings issued by government authorities to any great extent but so far have abstained from precipitating any move that might bring drastic action from foreign officials.

NEW BUSINESS NOTE IN DIPLOMACY

American business men who in the past have paid little or no attention to the diplomatic service on the theory that the gentlemen who represent us abroad as Ambassadors, Ministers and Secretaries were social rather than real business figures, have come to a realization that they have misinterpreted the possibilities of these several officers. For the first time American business men at first hand are making their representations to Secretary Kellogg that in making appointments they hope that attention will be given at first hand to the business capacity and vision of the men who are sent abroad. In the old days the ability of a diplomatic officer to dance smoothly, talk softly and be a perfect gentleman, was supposed to make him A-1 for his post. Since the war, however, in the struggle for world trade, it has been found that the representatives of other countries have begun to spend less time at teas, and more in factories and counting houses. As a result a new vision has come to the American manufacturers. It is to the credit of these business men, however, that they have approached the matter in a fine spirit.

It is said that Queen Marie is displeased with the American tendency to exaggeration. Well maybe we did spread it on a little while Marie was here.

Men Who Made the World

FOR TWENTY YEARS ROSAMOND LABORED VIRTUOUSLY AND INDUSTRIOUSLY IN THE CONVENT. NO LABOR OR CHARIOT WAS TOO GREAT FOR HER TO CARRY TO A SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION WITH EAGERNESS AND ENTHUSIASM. AND THEN THIS LOVELY LADY DIED. THE NUNS GAVE HER HONORABLE BURIAL IN THE CHAPEL OF THE MONASTERY. THE BISHOP, HOWEVER, AFTERWARDS ORDERED HER REMAINS TO BE REMOVED. WHAT HIS MOTIVE WAS WE DO NOT KNOW. UNLESS IT WAS A DESIRE TO PLEASE QUEEN ELEANORA BY PUTTING THE STAMP OF INVALIDITY ON ROSAMOND'S ALLIANCE WITH HENRY. THEREBY, OF COURSE, BENEFITTING QUEEN ELEANORA. BUT THE AFFECTION OF THE SISTERHOOD FOR THE FAIR ROSAMOND WAS SO DEEP AND ABIDING, AND THE MEMORY OF THE GIRL SO HALLOWED BY HER KINDLY QUALITIES, THAT AT THE FIRST OPPORTUNITY THEY AGAIN PLACED THE REMAINS IN A NEW COFFIN AND SO ENDED THE DRASTIC STORY OF ROSAMOND AND HENRY, ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING INCIDENTS IN ALL ENGLISH HISTORY.

Don't Keep an Ear Running

In the old, old days when the best people were superstitious it was hard lines for the voyager who through fateful wind or his own heedlessness was blown between Scylla and Charybdis. Being between the devil and the deep sea is a mild situation by contrast. Neither allusion quite suits the requirements of the poor geek who thinks it safer on the whole to keep a running ear running. His is a sorry plight. On the one hand there is the fear that if the ear keeps running it will drain his strength or run his brains away, but we may reassure him about the latter, for as a rule his brains are too dense to run. On the other hand he quails before the dread consequences of drying up the discharge—whatever the consequences may be I dunno—and so he just drifts on till something happens. Let us leave him at that while we grapple with the notion that a constant or prolonged running or discharge from the ear (or anywhere else for that matter) may be a drain on strength or sap one's energies.

This childish superstition probably arose from childish ignorance of our ancestors who blindly assumed that any such phenomenon indicated "corruption" or a process of melting away of the structure within, and this quaint notion is still fostered by the "catarrh" quacks particularly. If there were any sense in such a notion the victim might reasonably entertain this superstition and squander his money, not to mention his time and health, on all the jmirack remedies which purport to renew strength, restore energy, build up the constitution and invigorate the blood.

Never mind what such a discharge consists of—it is of a practical consequence, except for the physician's diagnostic purposes. The practical questions, from the patient's viewpoint, are, Why is a running ear? And what to do about it?

I have enjoyed a large and lucrative practice for 20 years, in condensing and interpreting medical science for the lay reader (mind, I do not refer to medical art) and I am still unable to compress this chapter of otology in a half column. So what say we just take apart an average running ear and see what makes it run; also see whether, like regular watch or clock repairs, we cannot fix it so it won't run. Here is a promising young man who has literally come running right past a lot of kind neighbors who advised him to try to "out-grow it" (advice he has followed thoroughly) and several nice old doctors who have hinted that it is just as well not to "meddle" with it. The ear has been running four years, since an attack of scarlet fever. The amount of discharge varies from time to time, but never dries up. There is some fetid appreciable as the plug of cotton is removed from the ear canal.

"Why all the cotton," the doctor inquires. "Helping planters move the surplus crop?"

"No, but this weather—I thought I might take more cold in it."

"I see," said the doctor, peering through a speculum. Observing the nice warm winter underwear the patient has on the doctor hums a ditty telling how grandma always does. The doctor records the degree of impaired health, the granulations or polypi in the middle ear cavity, the extent of caries or necrosis of bone, and the involvement of the mastoid cells. "Next visit we'll see what we can do about it," he says.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Perspiration

I am a regular reader of your articles, but still I am puzzled over the question of "pores" in the skin. Having been taught that the perspiration is an excretion of the skin, I can't understand how we perspire if we have no pores. (S. E.)

Answer—The term "pore" suggests absorption. Nothing is absorbed through the skin. The sweat is an excretion, to be sure, and it is discharged through the ducts of the sweat glands. It is inaccurate and misleading to refer to these openings as "pores," or to imagine that they "open" or "close" under various conditions.

Hypnotism

Is it weakening in any way to be hypnotized? How can one resist the influence of another who is able to hypnotize him?

Answer—No. No one can hypnotize a subject who does not voluntarily submit to the attempt.

Arthritis

Please inform me whether arthritis is the same disease as gonorrheal rheumatism. Is there danger of contracting the trouble from one afflicted? Also is neuritis caused by venereal disease? (H. M. J.)

Answer—Perhaps three cases of arthritis (joint inflammation) in each 100 are gonorrheal. No form of arthritis is catching. I cannot think of any instance of neuritis (nerve inflammation) from venereal disease.

Lemon

Is drinking the juice of half a lemon in half a glass of hot water a cure for rheumatism if repeated daily for a long time? (S. L. K.)

Answer—It might cure quickly a case of "rheumatism" which happened to be scurvy. But in all other cases of alleged "rheumatism" (I don't know what you mean) I should advise making it a whole lemon, a whole glassful or a pint of water, warm or hot or cold as you prefer, with or without sugar to sweeten it, every day for about 10 weeks. The alkaline, anti-acid, diuretic and diaphoretic action of the lemonade is rather beneficial in most cases of joint trouble. The popular fancy that lemon juice is a cure for "rheumatism" probably grew out of the knowledge of sailors and other folk long ago that lemons were a cure and preventive against scurvy. What they called lemons we now call lemons. Lemon juice, like orange and tomato juice, is rich in the vitamin or accessory factor which prevents and cures scurvy.

YOUR BOY AND YOUR GIRL

By ARTHUR DEAN, SC. D.
The Parent Counselor

Dr. Dean will answer all signed letters pertaining to parents' problems with their boys and girls. Writers' names are never printed. Only questions of general interest answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamp, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address Arthur Dean, in care of this paper.

"Is marriage THE incident in your life, or AN incident of your life?" I'm reluctant to startle the neighborhood but I must say that I think this is a vastly more important question for an 18-year-old girl to think about than any school subject.

Now "Old Fashioned Mother," who often contributes to the column, answers this question which I some time ago raised in this column. And she does it with convincing directness and thoroughness.

Listen to her:

"Marriage, child-bearing and home-making are a woman's natural calling. Nature intended her for this work and she is happiest in it. That, of course, does not mean that a young woman should take the first available partner just to be married. But to me it does mean that a girl's training from her very infancy should be with the idea that some day she will be a wife and mother.

"I believe that any woman who has raised a daughter past high school age needs the daughter in the home during the few years (usually months) between her graduation and her wedding. If they are a family of moderate means, the daughter is needed to assist with the housework, the sewing, and even with the training and care of younger brothers and sisters, if there are any. And what could be better training for a girl than to step into the harness and learn to handle the family budget, to exercise the value of talents that are necessary to be an all-around wife, mother and home-maker? If she is not needed for those things, she can be of invaluable assistance to her mother in her social life, and it is really the only time a mother has an opportunity to enjoy the fruits of her labors, as it were, for it seems such a little while before the daughter is married and takes upon herself the responsibility of a home, a husband, and later a family—and then things are never the same.

"Of course if the family budget is so small that a daughter's earnings are necessary, that is a different matter, but even so I managed a thousand ways rather than let my daughter go to work in an office or teach a country school. And I can't imagine how any one could have needed money much worse than we did. And why? Because I wanted my daughter to be just a sweet, lovable, capable housewife and mother. I was convinced by my own observations that a few years of business life is poor training along that line for a young girl. No matter what kind of a character she is, no matter what kind of a position she may have, whether her compensation be great or small, contact with the business world is bound to 'take the bloom off the peach' so to speak, and that is what I could not bear to think of.

"It gives a girl the wrong idea of life. When a young man offers marriage to a girl who is earning a fairly good salary in an office, the first question she asks herself is, 'What kind of a fellow is he?' 'Will he be a good kind husband and the right kind of a father for my children?' Instead of 'What is his salary?' 'What are his chances for advancement as compared with mine?' And if they do marry the young wife usually keeps her position and naturally has no time for a real home, so they live in a furnished apartment. The wife has taken upon herself two jobs able. A woman who is the perfect flower of politeness, good manners, and gentle breeding is often the most persistent and incurable of sinners.

HIGH COUNTER PLAY: Oh, I suppose a wife interrupts for no other reason than to cut short the lengthy dissertations which a man seems to think he must append to the simplest thought. You can't tell me that the furnace clock is almost gone again without trying to deliver a regular congressional speech about it. You are intellectually unable to ask me to sew a button on your shirt without trying to deliver a formal address running into eight or nine thousand words. A woman has a right to try to stave off these wordy torrents even if she has to be rude to do it.

THE REFEREE: Oh, madame, no, no. Step forward, young man, and receive today's reward, for you have suffered much.

Bill Grimm's Progress is a pictorialization by Film Booking Office of America, Inc., (F. B. O.) of H. C. Witwer's stories of the same name.

SYNOPSIS
Bill Grimm, the leading heavyweight challenger under the tutelage of Butch Ford, is engaged to Barbara Baxter. Pansy Pilkington, Butch's friend and former star, induces Carlton Herne, her wealthy admirer, to finance a motion picture for her and Bill. Fairfax, Bill's enemy, gets him into a jam by getting Hoffman, a heavyweight contender, to box with Bill in the movie climax.

The night before the filming of his "big punch climax," which was to cause me so much disaster, I managed to get Barbara Baxter to go for a auto ride with me. Before we'd covered a dozen miles I'd told her all about the picture, looking for a auto ride with me. Before we'd covered a dozen miles I'd told her all about the picture, looking for a auto ride with me. Before we'd covered a dozen miles I'd told her all about the picture, looking for a auto ride with me.

Butch Ford kept hoping that Young Hoffman would take a run-out powder on Fairfax as soon as he'd figured what a sap he'd be to box me in a movie when he could get a raft of doubloons for meeting me in a ring. But this hope was without the slightest foundation, for Young Hoffman turned up, time with his pick, Fairfax, and a couple of handlers. I heard afterward this little stunt had cost Fairfax a even ten thousand dollars.

The scenario called for me be-

"Take him away before I make a murderer out of myself!"

Ing doped by a bribed second in my dressing-room before the fight, and this Thomas foolery was just one of the thousand things I'd hoisted at being ridiculous. It was not only old stuff; it was well nigh impossible for a thing like that to happen in real life, and I knew the case-hardened fight fans would laugh their heads off when they seen me pull that doped business in the movie. But our director told me that it supplied the proper menace, "was great dramatic stuff," and as it had goaded 'em hundreds of times before there was no reason why it wouldn't goal 'em again.

Well, while the cameras clicked merrily away, I took the drink supplied to be doped—and almost immediately I got dazed and sick at my stomach! Don't grin; it was far from a joke, as I'll soon show you. I staggered around the dressing-room, and in a dip here I heard our director howling that my "acting" was simply marvelous. I tried to tell Butch there was something most decidedly wrong, but my hands kept twisting and my mumbled words were meaningless. Like a man in a dream, I could feel myself being half shoved through the ropes into the ring to meet the smiling Young Hoffman, which stood waiting, alert and confident. The sport writers were watching me with puzzled looks on their faces, but on Jack Fairfax's face was a triumphant leer.

Stumbling around and shaking my head to try and clear away the cobwebs, I heard the bell and with it Butch's shrill shriek, "Stop—this here's a frame-up. There was a rising roar from the crowd, and I seen not one, but three or four Young Hoffmans and every one of 'em was socking me plenty. I just couldn't seem to snap into it, and I kept doing a Leon Ervy all over the ring while Hoffman followed me up, ripping in rights and lefts that shook me from head to heel. A torrid right uppercut dropped me to my knees, and I got up without a count, a sick boy. But by instinct I covered my head with my gloves to protect it from the hurricane of blows I knew would follow that knockdown.

The Americans came, all right, but somehow I managed to weather the punches and hang on to Young Hoffman for my life. I didn't seem to be nearly as much hurt as I was anybody, but everything was a blur, could hardly hold my eyes open, and this Hoffman was keeping me awake. Then the shouting of the crowd began to get me sore.

"Why don't this palooka knock me kicking and be done with it?" I thought dreamily. Both gloves locked around Hoffman's heaving body, I glared over his shoulder at the mob, but everything was a blur—like one of them snapshots you see of a auto doing a hundred miles a hour.

Young Hoffman suddenly shook me off, and I'd fall right down on the canvas and took the nap I sure wanted if the ropes hadn't held me up. Hoffman was trying desperately to measure me, but I kept swaying from side to side, and he wasted a dozen haymakers on my elbows and shoulders. I let

FAMOUS MEN LONELY SAY HISTORIANS

By ROBERT J. PREW (By Universal Service)
LONDON, Feb. 24. — Premier Stanley Baldwin's recent confession that he is a "lonely man" has induced English historians to investigate how far high office inevitably brings loneliness. Their decision is that many mighty men of history strove in solitude.

In modern times the greatest example is held to be Abraham Lincoln. C. F. G. Masterman, former Liberal Minister, declares: "Lincoln's wife was a fool who tried to make him into a 'gentleman,' from whom he was estranged and who subsequently went mad."

"His favorite boy died when he was at the White House; a loss bringing irreparable grief. He remained an inscrutable, titanic figure, bearing on his own shoulders alone the burden of the Civil War and the gigantic decisions which had to be made day by day and hour by hour."

"President Wilson, compelled in some respects to solitariness from the very condition of his high office, aggravated that situation by an almost pathological element of quarrelling with his own friends. He quarrelled with all his colleagues of Princeton University. He quarrelled with all those who were attempting to serve him in the complications of the Versailles Conference. Finally he quarrelled with Colonel House, who had made him President and served him with boundless loyalty, and who was even deprived of a place in his funeral service at the end."

Napoleon underwent an extraordinary change from communicativeness to extreme reticence. During the conquest of Italy he poured out his ideas, his ambitions, his passionate love in letters to Josephine at Paris. When he found out that she was unfaithful to him, "he shut the door of his heart and mind on the whole world and threw away the key." He remained married to her but never confided in her again.

Of John Milton also it is recalled: "His soul was like a star and dwelt apart." He married three women and made them all unhappy, and he bullied his daughters until they got sick at his service.

Among modern British statesmen Disraeli, hated and distrusted by the leaders of his own party, is described as the most lonely politician. He maintained a strict secretiveness after he had discovered from bitter experience that silence is better than speech.

Parnell, the Irish leader, always gave the impression of being an intensely lonely man. He carried alone to the grave the secrets of his strange personality.

Most revolutionaries are found to have been lonely men.

Decendant Of Miles Standish Is At Berkeley

(By Universal Service)
BERKELEY, Feb. 25. — Miles Standish, direct descendant of our Mayflower pilgrim forefathers, is enrolled as a freshman in the College of Agriculture at the University of California. It was learned from the student's directory, which appeared on the University campus today.

Young Standish though nine generations removed from the Standish of history has inherited some of his famed ancestor's military interest, having spent three of his summers in the citizens' military training camp. His grandfather and uncle were prominent in the Civil war and Spanish American war respectively.

"I was too young to make a record in the World war," he lamented today, "but maybe I'll make one someday in a Chinese war."

Old Folks Night Is Featured By Acantha O. E. S.

OLD FOLKS NIGHT—SOCIAL... One of the biggest events of the social season for the Acantha chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was staged last night in the Masonic hall.

The affair was known as "Old Folks Night," and was attended by a record crowd.

The session opened with Mrs. Carrie Holtenbaugh, worthy patron, and E. T. Kelley, worthy patron, presiding. Immediately after the business meeting the group went to the banquet rooms where a fine program was presented under the direction of Mrs. Velda Chapin.

"Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" was sung by the assembly.

Mrs. Velda Chapin, dressed in costume, rendered "Long, Long Ago."

A vocal duet by Mrs. Ina Cooper and Mrs. Ina Kelley followed.

They sang "Old Black Joe." J. J. Gough took the part of "Joe."

Mrs. Mina Downey and Mrs. Pearl Johnson sang "When You and I Were Young Maggie," and illustrated the etiol shrill.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Towers illustrated the song.

Miss Anna Wilson pleased with a violin number, "Love's Old Sweet Song."

Miss Jessie Lambrecht, dressed in costume, rendered "In An Old Garden."

Misses Zoe Hollenbaugh and Marjorie Woods pleased with an old fashioned dance.

The program was concluded with song by the audience.

Dainty refreshments were served by the committee under the direction of Mrs. Grace Jenkins.

HAROLD LLOYD PICTURE WILL SHOW AT CAL.

Remember when Rattlesnake
Johnny Allen, or others of his ilk, used to come to town, and you marveled at the wonderful things his medicine did for the strong man, and the others he carried with his show?

Recall how the strong man, who daily used a bottle of this elixir of life, could bend an iron bar around his neck, and crush a silver dollar with one hand?

If you do, you'll have your memory pleasantly refreshed in next Wednesday and Thursday
when Harold Lloyd's new Paramount release at the California theatre, for a considerable portion of "The Kid Brother" is devoted to an old-fashioned medicine show, with its dancing girl,
singing man, etc.

If you've never seen one of these performances, or never fallen for the colored water and alcohol these artists of the realm of bunk used to dispense, you still have a treat in store, for this faction is one of the funniest, it is claimed, ever appearing in a Harold Lloyd comedy.

Surely it should be, for never have Lloyd and his troupe put in more trying hours developing any single episode of a comedy. For more than two weeks they worked from sundown until dawn, through the damp hours of the night at the Lasky Ranch in Dark Canyon, only to be at the studio early the next day to look over the results of their accomplishments. It was trying, tedious work, but the results are more than worth the efforts, for they bring to the screen such a medicine show as used to be common twenty years ago.

Portrayed by an unusual cast,
the laughable side of the Navy has been played to the limit
under Edward Sutherland's direction. The story deals with the adventures of a pugilist, Beery, and his manager, Hatton. Literally knocked out of the prize ring,
they land in a whirlpool provided by the World War. And never was there such a pair of green goats! Chester Conklin scores a personal triumph as the transport captain, while Tom Kennedy, the chief petty officer, adds to the fun.

A love theme involving beautiful Lorraine Basson and Donald Keith, runs right through the hectic experiences encountered by Beery and Hatton.

Coast States Will Unite In Narcotic War

By WILLIAM H. JORDAN
(By Universal Service)
SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25.—United action by California, Oregon and Washington, the three Pacific coast states, in a movement to crush the illicit narcotic traffic, and to co-ordinate the work of rehabilitation of the narcotic addict is a plan which has been submitted to Governor C. C. Young by the White Cross, international anti-narcotic society.

The movement has been launched by the Oregon state legislature, taken up by the state legislature of Washington and brought into California through the agency of the Seattle branch of the White Cross.

The sponsors propose to establish a tri-state commission, with three members from each state to go thoroughly into the whole problem. They emphasize the geographical relation to the Asiatic sources of the contraband narcotics of the Pacific coast. They point out that the coast states are particularly concerned with the unlawful traffic and its consequent activities for that reason.

CHANG FORCES SKIRMISH

ence Williams, commander-in-chief of the American forces at Shanghai. Secretary Wilbur immediately went to the state department with the dispatch. Officials refused to comment, but the situation was said to be acute.

Throw Up Barriers
Troops of the other powers are already patrolling the international settlement and throwing up barriers. The Americans are the only forces which have not been landed to help in the general defense.

Outside the settlement, in the native city, there is said to be grave disorder. Troops of the defeated Shanghai army are falling back on the city and troops of the northern army are coming in, presumably to act as reinforcements, but looting is feared. In the meantime the Cantonese army is sweeping on toward Shanghai with all defenses swept aside.

Note of Warning Landing of American forces to act in the joint defense of foreigners in Shanghai was forecast earlier in the day when the American minister at Peking joined in a note of warning to all Chinese factions to respect the foreign consent.

Most of the American warships are alongside the wharfs of the international settlement, and can land troops in this way without passing through the seething native section, it was stated.

This is the first formal declaration that the United States would co-operate in the military operations for the protection of all foreigners in Shanghai. It was issued as the attack on Shanghai appeared inevitable.

Hankow Tied Up
So far the United States is the only power with interests there which has not landed troops.
The state department reported the outbreak of a serious anti-British strike at Hankow, which has completely tied up the port.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 25.—Soldiers of the San Chuan Fang armies, in full retreat, are reported to be looting in the suburbs of Shanghai.

Foreign troops took the field
today to protect Shanghai and its large foreign population while the warring Chinese military chieftains are maneuvering in preparation to fight it out among themselves to determine whether the Northern or Southern factions are to control the city and its million dollars a month customs collections.

The foreign troops were placed to the city.

REX, WONDER HORSE IS AT THE CALIFORNIA

For entertainment that has the extra recommendation of being unique, we call your attention to "The Devil Horse," which is the third and greatest production in which Hal Roach has starred his clever and spirited wild horse, Rex.
It is a thrilling story of the days when the Indians attacked pioneers in the far West. Because he attacks and slays the Indians, the big black stallion is called "Devil Horse" by them, and, in their superstitions terror they have endowed him with supernatural power.

In the story, which is by Hal Roach, it is shown how Rex, when but a colt, acquired a furious hatred for the Indians, so that whenever he got the Indians, he would flame in his fierce heart the desire to kill. He became the friend of a white man offered by the Indians
as a sacrifice to the Devil Horse, and is instrumental in saving the man's sweetheart and in winning the fight against the Indians when they attack the fort.

"The Devil Horse" contains a double love theme with the horse's love story paralleling that of the human beings in the play. Lady and the Killer, equine heroine and villain respectively of other Rex dramas, do their stuff in their everest manner, and Yakima Canutt, Gladys McConnell, Robert Kort-man, Roy Clements and Fred Jackman, Jr. give sincere performances.
The picture has been produced on a spectacular scale, with fights between Indians and Cavalrymen and pioneers. And to make the picture complete, the scenery is exceptionally beautiful, it being the finest director Fred Jackman could find in Montana and Wyoming. "The Devil Horse" offers splendid entertainment at the California Theatre.

Other features include "Upper-cuts", a Jack Duffy comedy; "Mutt and Jeff", cartoon; International City of Richmond, County of Contra Costa, State of California, will sell for cash to the highest bidder one hundred twenty-eight (128) Municipal Harbor Improvement Bonds of 1920 issued by said
City of Richmond of the denomination of one thousand dollars ($1,000) each, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum and numbered four hundred twenty-three (423) to five hundred fifty (550) both inclusive.

Sealed bids or proposals will be received by said Council for the purchase of said bonds filed with the Clerk of the City of Richmond at his office in said City Hall at or before 8:00 o'clock P. M. of said 7th day of March, 1927. No bid may be for less than par and accrued interest up to the time of delivery of said bonds to the purchaser. A certified check made payable to the Clerk of the City of Richmond for a sum not less than three (3) per cent of the par value of the bonds bid for must

Suit For $5,272
Is Instituted
By Mrs. Searles

Hall W. Sanders and W. T.
Kearney, local law associates, yesterday filed suit on behalf of Mrs.
Estelle E. Searles for damages amounting to $5,272.50 from the city of Berkeley, in the superior court of Alameda county.

Naming the city and a group of city officials, Mrs. Searles charges that the city maintained a wooden crossing over a concrete gutter at Spruce and Euclid streets in Berkeley in a dangerous condition, and that in stumbling on the crossing March 5, 1926, she broke two front teeth, driving them through her upper lip. She alleges that she sustained permanent scars disfiguring her for life.

While Senator Phipps (R) of Colorado has been filibustering against the bill in the Senate, Rep. Taylor of that state, in the House, declared:
"I would be a traitor to my state and to my country if I opposed the Swing-Johnson bill."

"The power companies told the House reclamation committee that they did not want the United States to build Boulder Dam," said Taylor, continuing:
"They have opposed it ever since. Nothing but the power trust has prevented legislation and ratification of the 70-state compact."

"Belongs to People"
"The Colorado river belongs to the people. Are you going to permit them to hold their birthright or give it to the water power companies? You are going to have to line up on that proposition."

"There are 25 or 30 applications of private power companies pending before the federal power commission for permits to build dams on the Colorado river. The secretary of the interior says he has no authority to withhold these permits."

"If these permits are granted
the power companies will appropriate the water. The people will be unable to do what they desire to do with the water. It will be controlled by these power plants.
They will insist upon the water supply."

Leatherwood Objects
Rep. Leatherwood (R) of Utah, broke in with a demand that Taylor name a power company trying to block the Boulder Dam bill, Taylor proceeded:

"I don't want to get into a controversy with you on that. What is all the filibuster in the Senate about, if it is not for that purpose. I don't accuse the gentleman from Utah of directly serving the power interests, but his attitude on this bill aids the plan of the power trust."

"Power companies have offered to put up $30,000,000 or $40,000,000 but they wanted us to turn over the Colorado river to them. That would enable a few persons to become billionaires."

In the name of thousands of persons in the imperial valley for protection against floods of the Colorado river, Swing pleaded for action at this session of Congress on his bill. He said:

Flood Danger Grows
"The danger of flood is growing daily. A flood would result in great loss of property, perhaps many lives. There is nothing to prevent it. That is the primary purpose of this bill."

Owen Services Will Be Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Laura Owen, former Richmond matron, who passed away at St. Mary's hospital, San Francisco, Thursday, will be conducted in Richmond this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock by Rev. Harold Collins, assistant pastor of St. Mark's Catholic church.
Interment will follow in St.
Joseph's cemetery.

Mrs. Owen was 41 years of age and a native of Minnesota. She resided in Richmond for a number of years prior to her removal to San Francisco two years ago.

She is survived by her mother,
Mrs. Jane Brown, of St. Paul, Minnesota, also formerly of Richmond; her sister, Mrs. A. C.
Schlaudecker of Richmond, and her brothers, John and Martin Brown

Forty Die In Tampico Wreck

(By Universal Service)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 25.—A death list of forty and an injured total of 100, most of the working men and their families, are the tolls of the disastrous train wreck near Tampico today, it was reported.

A broken axle of one car of the train, which was bound for Tampico to Monterey, caused a derailment and wooden cars telescoped and smashed into bits.

Leaves Estate Valued At $30,000

A petition asking probate of the will of the late Mrs. Madelon Latimer, widow of Superior Judge R. H. Latimer of Contra Costa county, records that she left an estate valued at $30,000. The estate consists of notes valued at $12,000, home property in Martinez of similar valuation and cash in bank.

Folder Describes Richmond Merits

That Richmond is a home city with all that the terms implies as well as being famed as an industrial city will be the theme of a sixteen page booklet to be issued by the Chamber of Commerce next week, according to B. S. Sanders, publicity manager.

The city's educational advantages will be described and pictured as well as the city parks, natatorium and other public buildings.

The booklet will be distributed to all Chambers of Commerce in the United States.

Chicago Business Men Urge Vote On Boulder Dam

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—Headed by William Hale Thompson, Republican nominee for mayor, a delegation of more than 100 Chicago engineers and business men today urged both branches of Congress to permit a vote on the Boulder Dam bill.

Joining the already large groups of prominent men from all sections of the country who are working for enactment of the measure, Thompson, fresh from his victory in the Chicago primaries, said that the Boulder Dam project "has swept the imagination of the entire Middle West."

"It's humane and necessary," Thompson told a large gathering of public spirited citizens and members of Congress at the Mayflower hotel to greet the Chicago party.

"This would authorize the building of the world's greatest dam. It is necessary to protect the lives of 60,000 residents of the Imperial valley, in California, whose homes are threatened with disaster from flood waters of the Colorado river," Thompson said.

"I hope they pass the cloture resolution in the Senate tomorrow so this necessary measure can reach a vote," he added.

Thompson said the bill would provide flood control, water supply that is sorely needed in the western cities and would yield an unlimited volume of electric power, the sale of which would pay for the dam within 50 years.

The Chicago delegation, which arrived on a special train here this morning, will call on President Coolidge tomorrow.

M'FADDEN BANK BILL IS SIGNED

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—President Coolidge today signed the McFadden bank bill which reached his desk after a tortuous passage through Congress.

The bill, which finally went through the Senate as the result of a coalition of its friends with the supporters of the farm relief bill vetoed today by the President, renews the charters of federal reserve banks.

Another important feature permits national banks to establish branches in states which allow their state banks to establish branch banks.

Restricts Branches
The branch banks would be confined to the cities of the parent banks. One branch will be allowed to a city in excess of 25,000 population, two from 50,000 to 100,000, and as many as may be determined by the controller of currency to cities in excess of 100,000 people.

Enlarges Loan Limit
The bill enables national banks to invest in securities under rules to be promulgated by the controller of the currency.

It also enlarges the loan limit of national banks on farm products. This would enable them in the future to finance marketing of basic crops which suffer a depression.

Canadians Seek To Ban Orientals

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 25.—Following the discovery that two bills before the legislature forbidding the further purchase of land in British Columbia by Orientals and barring them from attending the same schools as white children are ultra-vires and that the province has not the right to override the Anglo-Japanese treaty the government has decided to demand that the Dominion government have the treaty amended to restrict in every possible way, Japanese immigration to this country.

(By Universal Service)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 25.—Former President Obregon will accept the presidential nomination in 1928, according to telegrams received in this city today from prominent politicians.

In keeping with a constitutional amendment adopted some months ago, a former president may present himself again as a candidate, and the belief is expressed in some political circles that if ex-President Obregon stands for elections, he will win.

Diamond Seekers Beat Gun in Rush

(By Universal Service)
CAPETOWN, South Africa, Feb. 25.—Hundreds of diamond diggers today "jumped the gun" in the greatest diamond rush in the history of South Africa.

Despite the presence of two hundred policemen, the anxious miners paced across the veldt and pegged out their claims before the rush had been officially signalled.

As a result, it is expected that the authorities will order another rush, under the surveillance of the minister of mines.

Andrews Hints Graft In N. Y. Police Dept.

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—New York police are giving protection to bootleggers, Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews, federal dry chief, intimated before the House ways and means committee today.

Hinting at a clash between the federal dry law enforcers and New York City police, General Andrews declared that in two instances liquor ships came to docks there surrounded by police.

No one was allowed near the rum-laden ships, he said, adding that the liquor was hauled away in trucks under police protection.

Praises Mills
At the same time he praised Major Chester P. Mills, New York prohibition administrator, for being able to penetrate "the big source of supply."

The government has no intention of prosecuting any one connected with the Leshone de Paris case, General Andrews said.

Rep. Laguardia (R) of New York had charged that this company was formed by federal dry agents as a trap to catch divers of denatured alcohol.

The company bought and sold thousands of gallons of poisoned alcohol in its campaign, and crookedness involved has led the government to drop the project, according to Laguardia.

General Andrews complained that his present organization does not give him adequate intelligence on what is being done by agents "down the line." He urged passage of the prohibition unit reorganization bill to remedy that situation.

Martinez Cited In Court Fight To Quiet Title

MARTINEZ, Feb. 25.—Surveyors' records of a half century ago will be taken into court here when the trial of the Hilson vs. City of Martinez quiet title suit begins in the local courts.

The City of Martinez, Martinez Public Reading Room and Free Library Association, and David Mendel were named as defendants by D. L. Hilson this morning through his counsel James F. Hoey. The suit is to quiet title to certain properties on the south line of Main street between Estudillo and C streets on which the Hilson business block now stands.

A part of the Hilson building had to be "shaved off" when Mendel built at Castro and Main streets to allow the latter to occupy his property. Hilson yet claims an interest to several inches of land on which Mendel's building now stands. Hilson also asserts that about two feet of the land on which the library building has stood for nearly fifty years belongs to him. Discrepancies arise from the fact that the records of old surveys are scant and sometimes missing entirely.

Mrs. Beattie Eggerth has been confined to her home, 519 Fourteenth street, for three weeks with illness.

Last Rites For Sheehy To Be Held Tomorrow

Last rites for William G. Sheehy, Standard Oil worker who dropped dead while at work in the refinery here last Wednesday morning, will be held at the family home, 1225 Dwight Way, Berkeley, tomorrow morning. Sheehy had resided in California for 30 years and comes of a pioneer family. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mamie Sheehy, and three sons, John, William and Richard Sheehy.

CHARLES FOX IS LAID TO REST

Last rites for Charles Fox, San Pablo rancher who was electrocuted by a fallen power wire in the hills above Alvarado Park, near Richmond, the first part of this week, were conducted from St. Paul's Catholic church at San Pablo yesterday morning. ## 4 KNOCKOUTS FEATURED AT EL CERRITO

Rabid, blood-thirsty, thrill hunting fight fans got what they wanted at the El Cerrito Athletic club last night. It was San Jose night, too.

Out of the six bouts four of them ended with a fighter on the canvas while the birds twitted merrily in his ear.

In the main event Eddie Dampler, who hails from San Jose, trounced Pete Meyer until Meyer's seconds threw in the time honored towel in the seventh round.

In the semi-windup Dave Flash, also of San Jose, said "howdy" to Jimmy Wallace of Los Angeles who subdued Ray Walker of Oakland. After a brief salutation Flash sent Wallace to the floor for the count of ten.

In the special event, Pat O'Rourke of San Francisco subdued for Cliff Hottinger of El Cerrito. O'Rourke was introduced to Tony Pasich of San Jose, strange coincidence. Evidently Pasich didn't like the way O'Rourke parted his hair so Tony tapped O'Rourke under the chin in the middle of the first round and O'Rourke slid on his ear on the canvas and listened to Bye Bye Blue Bird while Benny Wagner counted the fatal ten.

So much for that. Lawrence Guilfré, of El Cerrito, was scheduled to go four rounds with Charlie Miller of San Francisco, but in the second round Miller got tired of fooling around and slapped Guilfré down for the count of ten. Miller is not from San Jose.

And that was that! Manuel Vasquez of Berkeley got a four-round decision over Young Champion of Oakland.

Ted Marshall of Oakland subdued for Charley Parks of Oakland in the curtain raiser. Marshall met Frankie Dodge who slapped Marshall down the alley for the count of ten.

Dodge is not from San Jose. He hails Alameda as his home town.

DONNIE BUSH SAYS THAT HE IS THE BOSS

(By Universal Service)
FASO ROULES, Feb. 25.—Manager Owen J. Bush, of the Pittsburgh Pirates, told the members of his squad here today that he is going to be the only boss of the team this season. And the veteran shortstop minced no words in the telling.

He put an absolute veto on drinking, and added that baseball no longer has any use for the player who dallies with booze.

Then gambling came in for a ruling. Card games will be permitted among the players on trains and in hotels, he said, but there will be a ten cent limit on stud and twenty-five cents on draw poker.

High stakes are barred, he explained, because heavy losses cause hard feeling among the team members.

High low games and fungo hitting were on the training schedule for today. Beginning tomorrow there will be two workouts with a yannigan game between the rookies and regulars daily. He warned the pitchers to be in top shape within three weeks and told the rookies they must be at the peak before camp is broken on March 18.

The most promising of the rookies is Thomas Farr, 20, of the University of Chicago, who caught 129 out of 122 games for Burlington in the Mississippi valley league last year.

Lloyd Waner, brother of Paul Waner, outfield sensation for the Pirates last year, may also win a place beside his brother if his hitting keeps up. He had a batting average of .345 last year with the Columbia club of the South Atlantic league.

Both games were marked by plenty of speed. DeBaer and Bowman shared honors for high point men, each making 7 points. Baldwin made 5 and Tittmore made 1.

The local lineup included DeBaer and Bowman, forwards; Baldwin, center; Hoskings and Swenson, guards; Lemkuhl and Tittmore, subs.

Golfer Sues
For Divorce

Leo D. Duncan, former professional golfer player at the Diablo and Fairmeade courses, has filed suit for divorce from his wife, Mrs. Eva Rose Duncan. Duncan alleges that his wife threatened his life, associated with other men, and called him an ugly name, besides deserting him.

Duncan was recently twice jailed on his wife's complaint that he did not sufficiently provide for her. He stated at the time that he had given her as much money as possible but that he was unable to provide more fully since he had been out of work for some months.

The couple separated last November. According to the divorce complaint, there are no children. It has not yet become known whether Mrs. Duncan will contest Duncan's complaint.

U. S. FAVORS ESTABLISHING A NICARAGUAN PROTECTORATE

send a military mission for this purpose and officer the native troops.

Until a sufficient force of trained native officers was developed and conditions became tranquil, the Americans would continue to officer the force.

Suppress Revolutions
A new treaty would bind the United States to intervene to suppress revolutions. This is designed to serve notice on malcontents that an outbreak is foredoomed and halt conspiracies in that direction.

The United States is urged to send financial experts to the country to take over the administration of customs and internal revenues. With the finances under American supervision President Diaz believes he could float a loan from private interests in the United States of sufficient proportions to complete several public enterprises.

Atlantic-Pacific Railway
One of these is a railroad connecting the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts. Others are construction of schools and sanitation program, which he proposes American experts supervise.

The general treaty covering these arrangements would continue in force until the debt is discharged and the large resources of the country industrialized and prosperous.

Diaz emphasizes that he would like to have the United States supervise the next election to insure its constitutionality. Should the Liberals be victorious, he would like to see them secure in office, safe from coup d'etat, or revolt, he said. Only in this way can Nicaragua be firmly re-established, he added.

Golf Tourney Is Postponed By Heavy Rains

Storms have so soaked the fairways of the Contra Costa Golf club that the handicap tournament announced for tomorrow has been cancelled. It has been found impossible to cut the grass either by mower or by the hand of sheep. Wet grounds and lost balls would so retard the play that the tournament committee reported that all plans for the tournament had been abandoned.

Marcus Is Winner
In Cue Contest

Results in the elimination billiard tournament now in progress at the Fern Leaf cigar store, on Macdonald avenue, near Sixth street, found Marcus winner in a 50-point three-game series over Obenland. Marcus handicapped Obenland 70-50 and won in two straight games by scores of 46-70 and 48-70. Harry Sullivan was referee.

Dick Sullivan will meet H. Sayer next Monday night.

Due to an erroneous report given the RECORD-HERALD Thursday night, it was stated that Arthur Miller had defeated Chet Shaw in the tournament. Shaw won the Thursday night match and is still in the running.

(By Universal Service)
BERLIN, Feb. 25.—Katherine Potchak, 32, a cook of Vienna, committed suicide because she had fallen hopelessly in love with the voice of a radio star whom she did not know, but whose voice she heard every evening when he broadcasted from the Vienna station.

Former Senator Of New Jersey Passes

CAMPDEN, N. J., Feb. 25.—David Baird, former United States Senator from New Jersey, died at his home here at 2:23 o'clock this morning, following a protracted illness. He was in his eightieth year.

Mr. Baird was born in county Derry, Ireland in 1839 and immigrated to the United States in 1873. He had been engaged in the lumber business, and held directorates in several business and financial concerns. He was appointed U. S. Senator in February 1918 to succeed the late Senator William Hughes. In November of that year he was elected senator for the short term, serving until March 4, 1919.

BANQUET MEET IS ENJOYED BY LOCAL BUILDERS

One of the biggest social events in many months was featured at the second banquet and entertainment meeting of the Builders Exchange last night. Dinner was served on elaborately decorated tables at $3.00 by caterers provided by the Cathleen Coffee Shop.

Entertainment was furnished by Oden and Richards, radio KTAR Hawaiian novelty troupe; Laura Wheeler and Mickey Mayes, in character songs and dancing.

Those members of the Exchange who were in charge of the entertainment were A. B. Greenburg, A. Perin and Vic Treadwell. On the general committee were R. W. Timmons and A. H. Winchcole, chairman, and A. Perin, R. E. Slattery, R. M. Stanford, A. B. Greenburg, Leslie A. Jones, V. J. Treadwell, Grant L. Miller, C. J. Lambrecht and A. H. Winchcole.

E. H. Higgins, president of the Exchange, presided as chairman of the evening. A. B. Greenburg acted as master of ceremonies.

A short business meeting was held after the banquet and entertainment. Several new members were accepted into membership. It was decided that a new policy should govern the meetings of the Exchange henceforth. In place of the weekly session each Friday a meeting will be held each month in conjunction with a banquet and entertainment.

On the March group for the social night were appointed the Apex Electric Sales company; Tilden Lumber company; Calaveras Cement company; W. S. Dickey Products company; Louis H. Gregorio, Carl Overa, Contra Costa Abstract and Title company, Charles H. Brown, A. H. Farrell, and Wallace Snelgrove.

Boxer Charged With Assault

(By Universal Service)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—A complaint charging Joe Benjamin, former lightweight boxer, with assault with a deadly weapon was issued here today at the request of H. E. Hodges, brother in law of Marion Nixon, screen beauty and the pugilist's former wife.

Hodges told officers that Benjamin appeared at Miss Nixon's home last night.

Brandishing a revolver, unrecanted the actress and broke several window panes. Miss Nixon obtained a divorce from Benjamin here several months ago. At one time he was considered a lightweight championship contender.

Mr. Haskell Completely Relieved

Mr. H. Haskell was very much discouraged after two months of the Pong Wan treatment and wished to quit.

He was urged to continue the herbs and was completely relieved after three more months of the Pong Wan Herb treatment.

Oakland, Calif.,
I suffered for many years from sores of the stomach and from bladder trouble. After years of treatment without results, I became very much discouraged and feared that I should never again be well. One day I saw in the newspaper a testimonial that Mr. P. Oliver had given to the PONG WAN HERB CO. As his case had been similar to mine, I called upon Mr. Oliver and learned from him that everything stated in that testimonial was true. I then began to faithfully take the PONG WAN HERB TREATMENT and after three months I was a well man. At the time of this writing my blood test is negative and my bladder is in splendid condition. 3113 Linden St.

Sacto Police Want Witness In Hall Case

Chief of Police Dan Cox of Richmond is in receipt of a letter from T. N. Koenig, chief of the Sacramento police department, asking his co-operation in obtaining a witness to the murder of H. J. Litzberg in Sacramento by Floyd Hall and Joe Tanko in 1925.

The letter in full follows:
CITY OF SACRAMENTO
State of California
Police Department
T. N. Koenig, Chief
Feb. 23, 1927.

Mr. Dan Cox,
Chief of Police,
Richmond, California.

Dear Sir:
Your fullest co-operation is earnestly solicited in locating a very material witness in the trial of the case of Floyd Hall on March 14, 1927.

Hall, with Joe Tanko, stands accused here of the murder of H. J. Litzberg in the latter's store at 314 J street, committed some time between 7 and 8 o'clock on the morning of April 17, 1925.

We have recently received information that a man named Fraline (we are not sure, however, of the spelling of the name), a migratory truck driver, while passing on the opposite side of the Litzberg store heard the shot fired and saw the two murderers hurrying from the store. Being on his way out of town at that time, Fraline gave the matter no further thought until he read the newspaper accounts and saw the published pictures of Hall and Tanko.

We were informed that upon leaving Sacramento on or about that day that Fraline intended to work on a construction job in Lassen county, perhaps driving a truck. So far I have been unable to locate him.

Fraline's value as a witness in this case, no doubt is apparent to you. Therefore I would greatly appreciate your every effort in the search for this man in our behalf. Early notice to me of his present whereabouts would be especially welcome.

It may be that at present Fraline is where ordinary ways and means open to peace officers' search or inquiry might possibly prove unsuccessful. I would, therefore, most respectfully suggest that you send enclosed extra copy of this circular letter to the editor of the most widely read newspaper in your district with request for press notice of same. Time and again the power of the press has manifested its worth and has accomplished what no other means could have brought forth. I am in hopes that through such publication Fraline's present address may be furnished me, provided that personal official in-

CHICAGO GETS PLURALITY OF NEARLY 180,000

By CHARLES N. WHEELER
(By Universal Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 25.—The magnitude of former Mayor William Hale Thompson's victory in Tuesday's primary today swept all opposition aside in the Republican camps and resulted in a reunification of the powerful factions for a harmonious battle in the forthcoming election contest.

All of the ward leaders affiliated with Senator Charles S. Denen and Roy O. West, secretary of the Republican national committee, who supported Edward R. Litsinger in the primary, today went on record as endorsing without reservation Mr. Thompson's candidacy.

Thompson's victory Tuesday not only smashes all records in Chicago's political history but so far as recent records go there is nothing to compare with it anywhere in the country in a primary election contest.

His plurality over Mr. Litsinger reached the stupendous figures of 180,000. It was greater than the total vote received by Litsinger.

Gets Majority of Vote
Thompson's total vote was 15,000 larger than the combined vote of all the other candidates for the nomination for mayor, including the vote given Mayor William E. Dever.

Never in the political history of Chicago has such a feat been achieved.

Opposition Republican leaders today declared that the fight was all over, that Thompson was a sure winner in April. Some said they would not be surprised if his vote in April exceeded the majority he rolled up last Tuesday.

quies may fall, notwithstanding due and diligent efforts put forth on your part.

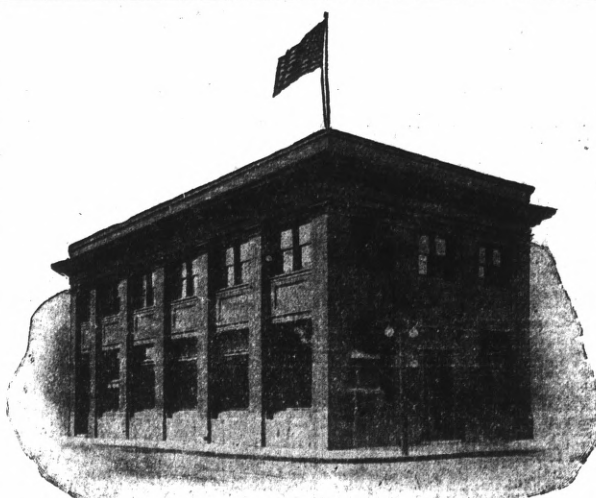

Thanking you in advance for the anticipated courtesy, I am,
Very respectfully,
(Signed) T. N. KOENIG,
Chief of Police.

First National New Home

FIRST NATIONAL BANK WILL MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS AT SIXTH ST. AND MACDONALD

The First National Bank of Richmond will occupy its new quarters in the bank building at Sixth street and Macdonald avenue next Monday morning. The new site was purchased from the American Trust company some three months ago. It affords opportunity for the expansion that has come as a natural outgrowth of the bank's progress. Officials of the bank are unanimous in their approbation of the change from the somewhat circumscribed space afforded at the old location at 611 Macdonald avenue to the new quarters.

The move will be made over the weekend end under the direction of Fred Caudle, cashier of the bank.

Growth Demanded Change
The steady and consistent growth of the First National Bank in Richmond since its opening June 1, 1923, has been remarkable. Its surplus and undivided profits have reached $125,000 and three dividends that reflected the business done by the institution have been paid the stockholders.

As a result of this growth larger accommodations for the transaction of the bank's excellent business became necessary. When the former occupant of the building was occupied, the American Trust company, decided to move to a new location, the First National bank in Richmond is due in large part to the character of the men who compose the board of directors. Their management of the bank and the formulation of its policies have resulted in the bank's reaching a position of importance in the city. The board of directors is composed of E. M. Tilden, president; E. M. Downer, first vice president; J. F. Brooks, second vice president; Fred Caudle, cashier, and C. C. Kratzer, J. L. Eakle, and R. E. Slattery.

Employees The Same
The same force of employees that the public has come to know will be in charge at the bank. Besides Caudle, others included in the personnel are Mrs. Mary Accornero, 1510 Blissett avenue, and Miss Ruth Hanney, 200 Nevada avenue, Point Richmond.

New Tenants
Hall W. Sanders and W. T. Kearney, widely known local attorneys will be the first to occupy offices in the new site. Their offices will be on the second floor facing Macdonald avenue. The First National Bank will have the wholehearted cooperation of local business men, who have manifested their gratification at having a strong banking institution in the section that the First National bank will serve.

E. M. Tilden Fred Caudle

E. M. Tilden, president of the First National Bank in Richmond, first came to this city in 1900 from Woodland, California, where he had been engaged in the lumber business. He served as director of the old Bank of Richmond in 1902 before it merged with the Mercantile Trust, and with others negotiated the purchase of the Mechanics Bank in 1917. Here he served as vice president.

He has served in the capacity of president since the organization of the First National bank in 1923. Tilden has large interests in the lumber business and over 30 branches in various cities in California. He has always been actively interested in Richmond and is a sincere believer in its future. He is a member of Elks and the Masonic lodges.

Caudle has been in the banking business for 19 years. He came to the First National Bank from the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco. He first began acquiring experience that has made him an authority on banking subjects in McPherson, Kansas, in 1908.

He came to Richmond in 1913 and served with the old First National Bank from that time until 1920. He then became assistant manager of the Bank of Italy at Modesto until 1923 when he became connected with the Federal Reserve bank.

Caudle is well known in Richmond for his interest in community growth and progress. He is a director of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Richmond Lions Club.

Speeder Gets Suspension Of Auto License

Charged with having driven at a rate of 48 miles per hour on Cutting boulevard, the driver's license of R. W. Conyers, of Richmond, was suspended for 30 days and an alternative given of paying a fine of $25 or spending an equal number of days in the county jail, when Conyers appeared in the court of Police Judge C. A. Odell yesterday.

R. Novland of Alameda was assessed $20 for speeding, and an El Centro boy charged with having driven 26 miles per hour on Macdonald avenue was certified to the juvenile court at Martinez. The youth's name is withheld because of his age.

Churches Will Hold United Services Sunday

The Protestant churches of this city are uniting their Sunday evening services for this Sunday and have secured Col. W. A. Crawford of the Salvation Army for their speaker. There will be two or three special numbers of music besides the big "sing" out of the Bugin song book.

Dr. E. Bulgin will start the revival services on Tuesday. Services will be held at the First Christian church.

for them, would outlive each other to produce vast crops, the President said. The net result of that, he feared, would be an overproduction which the government never could handle in a worst plight than they ever have been.

To place in the hands of a board of twelve men the absolute power to fix prices upon the necessities of life is a dangerous, autocratic venture upon which the government never should embark, he said. The farmers themselves would never tolerate a government bureaucracy which could disrupt their cooperative marketing societies and shatter their own independence, President Coolidge declared with certainty.

Wants To Help—But

He wants to help the farmers, he said, but this bill would not do it. President Coolidge's veto will be sustained by the senate, according to well-nigh universal belief here. Action on it is certain to come before final adjournment next Friday.

"No one can deny that the prices of many farm products have been out of line with the general price level of several years," President Coolidge said in his veto message.

"No one could fail to want every proper step taken to assure to agriculture a just and secure place in our economic scheme."

"Reasonable and constructive legislation to that end would be thoroughly justified and would have the hearty support of all who have the interests of the nation at heart," the President declared.

"The difficulty with this particular measure is that it is not framed to aid farmers as a whole, and it is, furthermore, calculated to injure rather than promote the general public welfare."

"For many years—indeed, from before the day of modern agricultural science—balanced and diversified farming has been regarded by thoughtful farmers and scientists as the safeguard of our agriculture."

"The bill under consideration throws this aside as of no consequence. It says in effect that all the agricultural scientists and all the thinking farmers of the last fifty years are wrong, and that what we ought to do is not to encourage diversified agriculture but instead put a premium on one-crop farming."

"The bill upholds as ideals of American farming the men who grow cotton, corn, rice, swine, tobacco or wheat, and nothing else. These are to be given special favors at the expense of the farmer who has toiled for years to build up a constructive farming enterprise to include a variety of crops and livestock that shall, so far as possible, be safe, and keep the soil, the farmer's chief asset, fertile and productive."

"The bill singles out a few products, chiefly sectional, and

Bomb Explodes In N. Y. Court

(By Universal Service)

proposes to raise the prices of those regardless of the fact that thousands of other farmers would be directly penalized."

President Coolidge pointed out that the federal board created by the bill would assume the losses of the packers, millers and other processors of crops who handle any of the surplus that would be bought and he then declared:

"It seems almost incredible that the producers of hogs, corn, wheat, rice, tobacco and cotton should be offered a scheme of legislative relief in which the only persons who are guaranteed a profit are the exporters, packers, millers, cotton spinners and other processors."
